Captain Sullivan states that the Armory wil be open every night this week to permit all of the men an opportunity to clean their rifles and equipment, as everything must pe in first-class shape for the annual fispection of the company Friday evening.

TAFTVILLE DEFEATED.

A big crowd assembled in the Armory Saturday evening to see the Thread City Cyclers defeat the fast Taftville five in a game replete with action and genuine old-time sport, for the contest was played in a cage the same as it used to be in the days when Mayor Dunn had his crack aggregation of players that made everything step a lively pace in the league when professional basketball had a strong hold upon the public in this section of the state.

It was a strenuous, exciting game, and at the end of the first half the home team led by a narrow margin, the score being 13-11. Because of the enclosed surface there were many fouls, and the game appeared much rougher than was really the case. The crowd cheered, hooted and howled as of yore, and there was the most enthusiasm shown at any time this season. Taft-ville was well represented with rooters in the gallery. The lineup and summary:

Jolly 5, Excelsiors 6.

Before the big game and between the haives two teams from the local Y. M. C. A. the Jolly Five and the Excelsiors, had it out for honors and the former five put the trimmings right on to the Excelsiors in grand style, winning the runaway match by the score off 33-6, and ending the first half with a 17-2 lead. The final period was cut somewhat as the game was fast becoming too one sided. The lineup and summary:

The first haif was an exceedingly fast and was full of fine teamwork and excellent blocking, and the visitors closed with a lead of 9-3.

Windham started the final session still faster, and soon got a lead that it maintained until the close of the game. The passing in this half was superb, and although Wesleyan second was composed of a bunch of good rugged young men, they could not withstand the merry pace set by the High school boys, who scored just twice as many points during the half as the visitors.

BAND WON CASE. Cadets Could Not Retain Uniforms Which They Had Not Paid. Before Richard Gorman, justice of the peace, there was a hearing Satur-dey of the repievin suit of the Putnam Cadet band vs. Henry W. Balcom, Irv-ing A. Cutier, Earl Tourtelotte, Earl G. Evans and Leonard Dismond, all minors excepting Balcolm. Attorney Charles L. Torrey was appointed guardian ad litim for the other defend-ants.

The sult was brought because of the retention of uniforms of the band by the defendants, which uniforms were bought through a local store last year, payment to the amount of $368.75 being guaranteed by George A. Hammond. The case hinged on the by-laws of the band, one of which provides that uniforms are to remain the property. of the band, one of which provides that uniforms are to remain the property of the organization until paid for and for a period of three years. The defendants were members of the band, but falled on resigning to give up their uniforms. Only the case of Diamond was tried, the deceision being in favor of the plaintiff. Judgment, by agreement, was entered against Diamond and the other defendants in favor of the band, without costs or damages. The Boston College girls' basketball team proved an interesting attraction for a large number of Putnam people, but the game was regarded as rather below the standard by many of those who witnessed it. The girls would have been easy to defeat by a far less capable team than the one that represents Putnam—but why beat the ladies? The spectators enjoyed the game as well as if the score had been 100 to 1 in favor of the home team. Washington's home at Mt. Vernon, Va. Another rare picture is a large steel engraving of Washington's Last Interview With His Mother. Of this picture there are but few copies in existence. Mr. Bliss has two pictures. The Girl and Parrot, and The Girl and Kitten, painted about 120 years ago. At the present, there are two hanging on the walls in Washington's home at Mt. Vernon. Two other pictures printed in 1794, in London, are religious subjects. The Angel Appearing to the Shepherds, and The Birth of Our Saviour, Jesus Christ. The name and date appear on the margin.

Among his collection of old books, the oldest is The Christian's Consolations Against Fears of Death, published in Canterbury, England, in September, 1705, by Drelincourt of that place.

One other picture, a steel engraving, is prized by the Bliss family. The Signing of the Compact in the Cahin of the Mayflower, the inte Mrs. Bliss of Stonington being a direct descendant of Elder William Brewster, on her father's side, and Raiph White on her mother's side, both men being represented in the picture.

An old loom was formerly owned by the late William W. Backus, founder of the Backus hospital, Norwich. The loom was built more than 166 years ago, and is handmade. The beam is 28 inches in circumference and stands two feet high. The reeds are made of small pieces of bamboo and bound with tarred rope and were made by Ezra Huntington of Norwich Town, whose name was burned in the reeds. The loom is in first class condition and is used constantly by Mr. Bliss in the manufacture of colonial and Indian rugs.

A very old chair is among his antiques, once owned by Zephanian Bliss, born July $ 1753, son of John Bliss and Sarah Huntington, of Norwich Town.
